Diplomats From Salvador Try to Enlist Costa Rica in Alliance Against Guatemala.

WHOLE REGION IN A TURMOIL.

Guatemala Helps Honduran Insurgent, While Nicaragua and Salvador Co-operate to Make Trouble for Guatemalans

Panama, Feb. 12.-Advices received here that a diplomatic mission from the Republic of Salvador arrived at San Jose February 6, bringing several proposals for the vador, Hondurns and Costa Rica, against Guatemala, and to further the plans for the proclamation of the union of the Central American Republics.

According to these advices, the whole of Central America may be involved in war, as the political conditions are most critical. The civil war in Honduras continues and Guatemala is aiding the adherents of Bonilla, the elected President of Hondaras who is unable to assume office owing to the opposition of General Sierra, the President of the Republic, whose term has expired. Nicaragua and Salvador, it is understood.

are co-operating against Guatemala and Government with arms and ammunition. About 3.000 Salvadorean troops, it is reported, are near the frontier of Guatemala. SALVADOR'S STORY.

Washington, Feb. 12.-The State Department has been advised by United States Minister Merry that the President of Salvador has informed him that complete tranquility previals in Salvador, and that the rumored declaration of war is false.

FRANK DAY OF MISSOURI DEFEATS CHAMPION JEVNE.

void of Spectacular Effects That the Crowd Expected.

Frank Day had little trouble defeating Lloyd Jevne, the world's champion three-cushion-carom billiardist, in last night's tournament at the Grand.

The players were in poor form, and from the start the ivories broke hadly. The slowness of the game may also be accounted for by the fact that both players confined their efforts mainly to playing the safety shot game. The players have been doing but little in the balk-line work in the academy game of late, and the three-cushion game, the reigning favorite at the academy at the present time, has done much to destroy the delicacy of touch necessary in the balk-line game.

Day won the bank and from the lay-off succeeded in scoring one point, Jevne's first effort was fruitless. They did little in the second inning, Jevne drawing a cipher, while Day was only able to make four points. The third inning proved Jevne's banner inning, and before the balls stopped rolling he made twenty-five points.

In this inning Jevne displayed some of the form that brought him to the fore as a billiardist. From the third inning until the middle period of the game but very little was doing for either player, but at this stage Day got the balls bunched and made his high run of thirty-nine.

In the twenty-second inning Jevne made twenty points, but the lead his opponent had established proved more of an obstacle than the champion could overcome. Tonight Jevne plays Peterson.

SUNFLOWER WILL BE ADOPTED AS THE STATE EMBLEM BY KANSAS.

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 12.- "The Sunflower State," as applied to Kansas, is to become aw. Senator Moorehouse introduced a bill in the Senate to-day making the following

"That the helianthus, or wild and native sunflower, is hereby made, designated and declared to be the State flower and floral emblem of the State of Kansas."

He prefaced the bill with the following explanatory resolution:

Whereas, Kansas has a native wild flower, common throughout her borders, hardy and conspicuous, of definite, unvarying and striking shape, easily sketched, molded and carved, having armorial capacities ideally adapted for artistic reproduction, with its strong distinct disk and its golden circle of clear glowing rays, a flower that a child can draw on a slate, a woman can work in silk, or a man can carve on stone or fashion in

"Whereas, this flower has to all Kansans a historic symbolism which speaks of frontier days, winding trails, pathless prairie, and is full of the life and glory of the past, the pride of the present and richly emblematic of the majesty of the golden future and is a flower which has given Kansas the world-wide name. The Sunflower State."

The bill is expected to be advanced on the calendar, passed by the House and signed by the Governor. All the legislators favor it.

began strolling back into their seats. Mr. Hains simply remarked that the committee ad given it a favorable report and that it had given it a favorable report and that it should be sent to engrossment.

Dorris of Oregon opened the fireworks against it by stating that the measure was a step backwards and a relie of barbarism. "What would other people think of us," he said, "if we should permit such a cruel piece of legislation to go on our books? The Constitution says that excessive, cruei and unusual punishments shall not be meted out to any offender."

Murphy of St. Louis thought that there were some constables in St. Louis who should go to the whipping post, especially as their pictures were in the rogues' gallery.

Huck of Ste Genevieve said that a good whipping would do more for a petty their than incarceration in the jall, where the county pays his board. Wallace of Ralls asked if the measure applied to watermelon thieves. Kronck of St. Louis was surprised to hear any one use seriously the argument that whipping posts would be a saving to taxnayers.

a State which is yet asieep."
FLOWERS AND DELICACIES.
Tichacek of St. Louis got back from home to-day and entered into the fray in a way which brought applause. "Were they not more honest 250 years ago than we are?" he asked. "It is a whole lot better to send a thief to the whipping post than to put him in jail where the women can send him flowers and delicacles."

Gipson of Chariton said it made his blood boil to visit the County Courthouse and see great, big, black whelps living at the expense of the people in jail, while honest people have to earn their living. "Only those who are afraid of the whipping post do not want this bill passed." he said. "I am afraid of hell, but I am not afraid of the whipping post."

Murphy of St. Louis remarked that the author of the whipping-post bill in Delaware was the first to feel its effects.

Bothwell of Sedalia made the longest and trongest speech of the afternoon against the bill, and probably defeated it. "Whipping a man is not a proposition to laugh at." he said. "If a man steals a chicken send him to the post. Let him rob a bank and he can escape. What sort of discrimination do you call this? The man who wants to escape the whipping post should commit grand larceny."

Wallace of Ralls said that confinement was no restraint, but a whipping was. Morris of Schuyler moved an indefinite postponement, and upon roll call it was carried by a vote of 65 to 39.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Washington, Feb. 12.-Chief Clerk Irelan of the Patent Office received a dispatch from Springfield, Mo., this morning, re-questing information regarding the attempt-ed suicide of Charles R. Robinson of that place.

Charles R. Robinson was appointed a clerk in the Patent Office several months ago by means of the eligible list prepared by the Civil Service Commission. When notified of his appointment Robinson came on here and immediately went to work. He was attached to the office of the Chief Clerk and was regarded as a competent employe. He was about 19 or 20 years old and was rated as a messenger.

Mr. Irelan states that he was much surprised last Tuesday when the young man asked him if he could secure his money, as he wanted to hand in his resignation. Mr. asked him if he could secure his money, as he wanted to hand in his resignation. Mr. Irelan asked Robinson if he had secured a better place, but the young man did not make a very satisfactory answer.

The chief clerk gave him the order for the sainry due him, and he departed without saying good-bye to any of the clerks with whom he had worked. His action was rather a surprise to all who knew him. The first intimation received of the young man's alleged attempt on his life by any of the clerks in the Patent Office was found in a morning newspaper, which stated that a man of that name had attempted to kill himself by cutting the velns of his wrist with a penknife at Cumberland, Md.
